

Purchasing with PayPal & Installation

Can I install the software on more than one computer with only one license?

Certainly! If you have more than one computer - for example, a desktop and a laptop, you can install the full/registered version on both of them providing that they are both owned by you personally and you will not be using the software on more than one computer at the same time.

Unique solution ID: #1055

Author: Administrator

Last update: 2012-07-06 07:05